SNAKES IN 3 JARS

Dealer in Reptiles Supplies Crystallized Venom
Free to Scientists.

Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 23.—
Three glass jars, hermetically sealed,
filled with yellowish crystals,
rest on a shelf in the office of
A. ("Snake") King, at "Snake-
" on the outskirts of Brownsville. The crystals in each jar represent the poison from approximately one rattlesnake.

King annually buys and sells thousands of rattlesnakes, and at "Snake-
" there are at all times hundreds of rattlesnakes of all sizes and descriptions. For several years he has been collecting poison from the reptiles, storing it in a small kin, and selling it to scientists in all parts of the world who are endeavoring to find a remedy for snake bites.

People in Brownsville realize the value of business which flows from "Snakeville." They daily buy boxes labeled "Dangerous Reptiles; Handle With Care," and enter the express office.
It is a familiar sight. Dozens of snake catchers are required to keep the stream of reptiles moving King's pens.

King never has charged a cent for poison crystals, nor do I ever charge anyone for the antivenom. King states: "I have saved poison and crystallized it for the benefit of science, and I have the right to the benefit of anyone who uses it by a rattlesnake."

Scientists throughout the world
asked me for crystals, and I never failed to respond, provided I was assured they were to be used for legitimate scientific purposes only.

It is a curious fact, King points out, that the poison used to produce antivenom works well only when it comes from the family of snakes which the bite has come. The poison used for rattlesnake bites is from the blood of a horse
infected with rattlesnake poison,
which is then as soon after the bite as possible.

When the snake farm at Sao Paulo, Brazil, was established by the Brazilian Government and placed in charge of scientists, King was asked to supply several quarts of the poison, representing the collection of about 20,000 rattlesnakes.

King has branched out his business to include birds and animals of diversified variety. Parrots, iguanas, monkeys, horned toads, wildcats,
leopards, lions, leopards and scores of other species of animal life of Mexico and the Southwest, are found on his farm.

MARKS' TRIBAL ARTS LOST
of White Man's Ready-Made Articles the Cause.
Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., June 23.—
The rapid adoption of the civilization of the white man has resulted in the loss to the Five Civilized tribes of at least six of the principal arts of their forefathers, according to J. B. Thoburn, of the Oklahoma Historical Society.

The lost arts include those of pottery and crockery making, the making of bone utensils and ornaments,
the use of Indian weapons and their manufacture, the tanning of hides,
the construction of dwelling houses and the preparation of foods by Indians. Thoburn said.

As a consequence of the ready-made articles of the white man and their added attractions are accounted for as the causes to the decadence of these arts.

Including a library of music and a beautiful cabinet
and a duet bench to match.
The Piano is guaranteed for

FALL IN BUILDING COST PREDICTED

Suburban Home Construction Will Rival Growth of Auto, Says Statistician.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., June 28.—Predictions of price reductions in the cost of building and of general real estate activity were made by speakers at the opening session of the sixteenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards here yesterday. The convention, said to be the largest gathering of business men this year, attracted approximately 7500 delegates from the United States and Canada.
Basing his conclusions on questionnaires sent to all real estate boards in May, Melvin L. Morse, real estate statistician of Wellesley Hills, Mass., also forecast some depression for general business.
"The demand for new buildings at the present level of costs is nearly filled," Morse stated. "But the need for new buildings, taking all classes as a whole, is by no means filled. When costs are reduced, another lot of contracts will be forthcoming. The extent of each drop 'will depend mainly on the readiness of building material men and of labor trades to adjust themselves to the situation,' he added. Any marked depression, he declared, would be prevented by the suburban home building movement, which he said would rival the growth of the automobile, good roads, the movies or radio.
A general diminution of prices was predicted by Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, who added that this would not be a real disadvantage to many because of the greater purchasing power of money.

PRELIMINARY DIVORCE DECREE OBTAINED BY GERALDINE FARRAR
Final Separation From Lou Tellegen Will Issue Automatically in 90 Days.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 28.—Supreme Court Justice Tierney yesterday signed an interlocutory decree of divorce for Geraldine Farrar in her suit against Lou Tellegen. The final decree will issue automatically in 90 days.
The preliminary decree recites the divorce shall become final in three months, permits Miss Farrar to remarry if she wishes, but forbids Tellegen to marry except by express permission of the court. While defendants in divorce suits have remarried, the ceremonies have usually taken place in another state. Such a marriage is not regarded as legal in New York State.

AVIATOR AND MECHANIC KILLED
Main Wing Breaks When Plane Is at Height of About 2500 Feet.
By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., June 28.—Bert Cole, widely known aviator, and George Lawley, his mechanic, were instantly killed here last evening when their airplane crashed from a height estimated at 2500 to 3000 feet. The plane was in flames when spectators and the police ambulance arrived. The bodies of both men were crushed.
The two flyers had been in the air about an hour doing stunt flying and had headed back toward the field when the pilot evidently decided to try one more stunt. Hundreds saw the plane soar upward. One main wing broke loose and the machine turned over twice in midair and landed on its nose at the edge of a small cornfield.

JURY ACCUSES 5 IN KILLING
Death of Holden, (Mo.) Man After Quarrel Declared Premeditated.
By the Associated Press.
HOLDEN, Mo., June 28.—A Coroner's jury last night held that George McCormick, who was killed here Saturday, came to his death at the hands of Harry Knight, Guy Knight, Benjamin Knight, Frank Carey and Chester Kerr in a willful and premeditated manner.
Lowell McCormick, 17, was held to have been justified in killing Benjamin Knight with a shot gun. The jury adjudged that Lowell fired in defense of his father, who witnesses testified, had been struck down with a club by one of five assailants. The men accused in the verdict are alleged to have gone to McCormick's house after a quarrel which arose when McCormick killed one of Benjamin Knight's dogs that had damaged McCormick's garden. Guy Knight, one of Benjamin Knight's sons, and Frank Carey are in jail in Kansas City. A reward of nearly $1000 has been offered by citizens of Holden for the arrest and conviction of Kerr and Harry Knight.

JUSTICE LEVIES FINE ON JUSTICE
Charge of Speeding Results in $5 Penalty.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 28.—"Five dollars and costs," said Justice George R. Lynch of Hillside to Justice Nathaniel Barsman of Evanston, who had been haled before him Tuesday night on a charge of speeding. "Sounds familiar," said Justice Barsman. "I'm a Justice myself."
"Justice or no Justice," retorted Justice Lynch, "five dollars and costs." Justice Barsman, who fines an average of 40 drivers a week in Evanston, paid it.

POISON EFFECTIVE IN WAR ON MISSOURI CHINCH BUGS

Reports From Saline County Sector Encourage Agriculture College Scientists to Redouble Their Efforts.

By the Associated Press. COLUMBIA, Mo., June 23.—Additional proof that calcium cyanide powder is effective in killing chinch bugs, which annually do thousands of dollars damage to Missouri crops, is reported from Saline County by Neely Turner, one of the field men sent out by the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri to help in the war against the pest. Chinch bugs, both young and old, have already advanced into the cornfields to a distance of six to 25 rows, he reports.

The cyanide is working perfectly in the destruction of the young bugs. In a Saline County demonstration it killed all of the young brood to a distance of four feet to the windward from the line of the chemical gas.

The method, an innovation in the warfare on the bugs, as discovered recently by the College of Agriculture and as recommended by the college, is to distribute the calcium cyanide in the furrow already in use for the barrier, applying about one pound of the calcium cyanide to each 40-foot length of ditch. For best results the college recommends that the powder be applied in the early afternoon just before the bugs start moving. When they reach the ditch containing the poison gas, or even before they reach the ditch, they will be killed, according to the college.

CHARITY AND CREDITS HELP AUSTRIA TO LIVE

Profits From Tourists an Important Revenue Item.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

VIENNA, Austria, June 23.—Has Vienna any excuse for existence under the new regime? Can Austria live? Is it necessary to balance the trade budget by increasing exports or can the deficit be offset by "invisible" items like receipts from tourist travel?

In the face of confirmed pessimism from Austrian authorities,
these questions meet affirmative
answers from many foreign economists residing here. Vienna has remained a banking center for central Europe. The Wiener gross banken,
as they are called, seem to be more fearful and respected than ever in Bohemia, Croatia, Galicia and Transylvania, because they still succeed in doing a tremendous volume of business in Czech and Yugoslav securities.

Vienna also remains a commercial and business center for central Europe. Twice as much transit trade passes through her capacious railway stations now as in prewar times.
Merchants from many foreign states
still come here to buy, despite her attempts on the part of the Czechoslovak government to attract this trade to Prague, and thousands of foreigners like Vienna so well that they live here as aliens rather than
in their home towns as natives.
There are more than 100,000 Czechs
in the capital of Austria.

It is customary to say that the little Austrian republic has been able to struggle through her first four years of tormented existence only by means of foreign credits, which, though squandered indifferently in part, did nevertheless bring relief
at moments when relief was most needed.

Exception to this view is taken in a remarkable study on the economic possibilities of Austria by a well-known American economist residing in Vienna. To offset unfavorable times in the trade balance,
payment on foreign debts, objects
carried off by reparation commissions and so on, he enumerates eight compensating items which in the future should go far toward making Austria a self-supporting state. These compensating items in order of their importance are enumerated as follows:

Foreign investments in Austria, about 700,000,000 gold crowns. The Austrian gold crown is worth 20.2 cents.

Credits and loans from other states, about 700,000,000 gold crowns.

Services for foreigners, including tourist expenditures, about 555,000,- 000 gold crowns.

Proceeds from Austrian investments in other countries from 300,- 000,000 to 600,000,000 gold crowns.

Immigrant remittance, about 250,- 000,000 gold crowns.

Transit trade through Vienna, or through Austria, about 200,000,000
gold crowns.

Profits from the sale of depreciating paper to foreign investors, about 240,000,000 gold crowns.

Charity imports, A. R. A., Red Cross, J. D. C., etc., about 50,000,- 000 gold crowns.

Among the nations advancing credits and loans to Austria for "charitable or political purposes, the United States easily comes first, with a total of about $75,000,000, and Great Britain next, with a total of $34,000,- 000. It is worth noting that even every dollar of the American loans
had to be underwritten by another nation more prosperous than Austria, preferably Great Britain, France or Italy. Other foreign credits to Austria have been as follows:

Czecho-Slovakia..... $17,000,000

France..... 5,600,000

Switzerland..... 4,800,000

Holland..... 4,700,000

Italy..... 4,000,000

Services rendered to foreigners include a number of minor items,
among them hotel and restaurant
accommodation to tourists, amounting to nearly 300,000,000 gold crowns in four years. About three times as many travelers visit Vienna now-days as did before the war.

Transit trade is growing more important every day and should reach imposing figures, if the succession states that have taken the place of Austria-Hungary can ever be persuaded to lower their tariff barriers and remove their commerce restrictions. Vienna merchants act as middlemen for quantities of Czech and Polish manufactures sold abroad.

Vienna importers supply wares of all kinds to Jugo-Slavia and Rumania.
Vienna business men in general know how to buy and sell abroad and inspire confidence in foreign commercial houses far better than other business men in this part of the world. Vienna freight yards remain the center of the railway system of Central Europe, through which must pass goods for Prague, Cracow, Lemberg, Czernowitz, Klausenberg, Budapest and Temesvar.

Foreign Investments Sequestered.
Austrian investments abroad were put under sequestration during the war, but are beginning to bring in revenue again. Emigrant remittances grew large during the period of famine and declining currency, but are now decreasing somewhat.

Profits from the sale of depreciating paper crowns may not have been intentional, but as in Germany, they were considerable, nevertheless, especially from the pockets of American investors.

Charity imports figured largely on the compensation scale during the famine years, but no have ceased
for the most part. Of the $9,000,000 gold crowns worth brought into Austria from 1918 to 1922, the Hoover American Relief Administration is responsible for the larger part.

ST. LOUIS SUICIDE RATE IS ABOVE U. S. AVERAGE

One-Third More of Its Citizens Kill Selves—13 Other Cities Have Higher Rates.
St. Louis last year had a third more than the average number of suicides in 76 American cities, or 29 per 100,000 of population, but there were 13 other cities with larger percentages of self-destruction. It is shown in an article by Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman in The Spectator, a New York insurance journal.
The corner's records show 155 suicides here last year.
The article relates how the suicide rate varies geographically but without apparent reason, traces a connection between the rate and the country's condition as to prosperity, and pleads for a study of suicide and the question of why it exists.
The position of St. Louis is shown in the following table of the suicide rate per 100,000 of population in 1931:
San Diego... 47.8
Sacramento... 37.9
San Francisco... 37.4
Los Angeles... 36.3
Portland... 37.2
Seattle... 27.1
Trenton... 24.0
Denver... 23.0
Haverhill, Mass... 23.1
Omaha... 22.5
Spokane... 21.9
Petersburg, Va... 21.4
Louisville... 21.1
Salt Lake City... 20.9
St. Louis... 20.1
Manhattan and Bronx... 15.7
Brooklyn... 10.6
Chicago... 14.1
Philadelphia... 13.1
Detroit... 12.8
Cleveland... 11.9
More Suicides in California.
The average rate for the 76 cities included is 15 per 100,000, the lowest being Somerville, Mass., with 5.1. The four cities with the highest rate were the larger cities of California. Of the cities with higher suicide rates than St. Louis, seven were on the Pacific slope, two in the Rocky Mountain region, two in the south, two in the East and one in Nebraska. Of the six largest cities in the country, St. Louis had the highest suicide rate.
"Year after year," Dr. Hoffman writes, "the relative standing of the different sections and communities as regards suicidal frequency has remained much the same. Just as Memphis leads in murder, the beautiful and always sunny city of San Diego leads in self-murder. The often gloomy and cold New England states show the lowest rates, while the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states show the highest. The contrast is a startling one, but no satisfactory explanation has been forthcoming. Suicide is relatively two and a half times as common on the Pacific Coast as it is on the North Atlantic."

"The suicide rate for the entire country is probably near to 15 per 100,000, when proper allowance is made for the many self-inflicted deaths that escape accurate identification. As is the case with murder, to an increasing extent skillfully disguised means are employed to hide the true state of facts, and often the identity of the suicide himself. From a life insurance point of view, this difficulty is one of serious concern, where large sums of insurance are involved, and where the payment of the claim rests upon the coroner's verdict. Accepting a rate of 15 per 100,000, the probable number of deaths by suicide per year at the present time is between 15,000 and 16,000, representing a toll of self-inflicted deaths added to substantially by the annual murder toll, placed at not less than 10,000."

Hard Times Increase Rate.
Figures quoted for 75 American cities, to show the varying average rate of suicides, furnish convincing proof that there are fewer suicides in boom years than in dull times. Thus, the rate per 100,000 was 13.8 in 1929, climbed to 19.2 in 1930, Louisiana Purchase Exposition year; dropped to 17.1 in 1931, soared to the record point of 21.8 in 1932, following the financial panic of the previous year; seemed about to reach the highest point, 21.2, in the unsettled early years of the war, 1914-15; shot down as war orders came and with the "catch-up" rush after the conflict to 12.5 in 1920; back to 15.1 with the dull period of 1921, ending with 15.1 last year.
"Suicides in this country," the article declares, "are largely the result of the easy facilities with which firearms can be obtained, even in the cases of youths and young children. Next to the ease with which firearms can be obtained there is nothing more scandalous than the practice of unrestricted sales opportunities in the procuring of deadly poisons."

Robbers Shoot Town Watchman.
Special to The Post-Dispatch.
SAN JOSE, Ill., June 25.—Two robbers early today shot and killed John Guenther, 50 years old, town watchman, when he surprised them in the act of breaking into Kelly's hardware store. The slayers escaped in a small automobile. It was Guenther's first week on the job.

MINERS WARNED NOT TO IMPERIL COAL SUPPLY

Public Won't Tolerate It, Federal Board Tells Convention Considering Wage Demands.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Public sentiment "will tolerate" no suspension of the anthracite coal supply this year," the Federal Coal Commission today informed the convention of union miners' delegates now in session at Scranton, Penn., considering new wage demands.

In a letter signed by John Hays Hammond, the commission's chairman, the miners were urged to "leave all questions open" for negotiations in committee.

The letter referred to the necessity in the anthracite field for making of new wage contracts August 31.

"The public expects an agreement, and we have full confidence that both operators and miners will recognize their duty to the public and will be able to effect a speedy conclusion," it says.

"You will receive within a few days the commission's report upon the anthracite industry. Meantime we urge upon both sides that, in addition to the welfare of each, that of the great body policy of the American people is involved, and that public sentiment will not tolerate a suspension of its anthracite coal supply with the beginning of the fall and winter season."

Lewis Says Public Should See That Miners Get Fair Deal.

By the Associated Press.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 28.—Taking the gavel as permanent chairman of the anthracite mine workers' convention today, International President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, in a keynote speech declared that economic conditions and the prosperity of the country justified the union's policy of no wage reductions.

The hard coal diggers, Lewis said, are approaching the coming wage negotiations in no spirit of apprehension and with no desire to bring about a suspension of mining. The miners, he added, recognized the paramount necessity to negotiate a satisfactory wage agreement to keep the mines in operation.

The United Mine Workers, Lewis said, recognize that they have a responsibility to the public, but the public, in turn, should "exercise some diligence to see that the miners receive a fair deal."

Lewis said the coal operators have made up the losses of last year's strike, and declared that reputable statisticians had figured that the failure of operators to make usual summer reductions in prices had added scores of millions to the profits of the coal companies.

PROHIBITION ENTIRELY FOREIGN SO FAR AS JAPAN IS CONCERNED

Notable Fact, However, That the Nation Does Not Have the Open Saloon Problem.

Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

TOKIO, June 27.—Prohibition is an entirely foreign proposition so far as Japan is concerned. Here the best liquors from all producing countries may be purchased at the old prices. It is a notable fact, however, that Japan does not have the open saloon problem. Liquor can be bought and is served in restaurants and tea houses and beer halls, but the use of liquor among the Japanese still remains largely an item during meals. The practice of purchasing liquor supplies at provision stores and drinking in the homes—the latter in moderation—also prevails to a great extent.

"Sake," the national beverage, which is a cross between beer and wine and which is served warm, still remains the popular drink. In fact the Japanese are not used to strong beverages such as have been used in foreign countries and the amount of whisky which would merely warm the cockles of a Britisher's heart generally puts a native under the table. However, there is a gradual increase in the consumption of foreign beverages, including whisky and especially wines. Beer is being manufactured in ever increasing amounts. So far, no indications of a move toward prohibition have made themselves felt in Japan, but the temperance movement is gaining a foothold among the people. A recent investigation disclosed that there are 236 temperance organizations scattered throughout the empire with a total membership of 117,932 persons.

$50,000 SPENT IN DEFENDING WILL OF JACOB LAMPERT

It already has cost Mrs. Rosa Graff of 5349 Pershing avenue, about $50,000 to defend the will of her brother, Jacob Lampert, cigar manufacturer who died Feb. 19, 1921, leaving her the bulk of his $1,125,000 estate. Eleven nephews and nieces have sought to have it set aside.

This fact was brought out in a hearing before Probate Judge Holtcamp today in which Mrs. Graff asked for an order for $3000 against the estate. Her request was granted.

The will has been upheld by the State Supreme Court, but motion for a rehearing has been filed. Mrs. Graff said she spent the $50,000 "in the will contest and in other unusual expenses."

France Failing to Convert Saar by School Cultural Offensive

Policy of Carrying Gifts in One Hand and Whip
in Other, and Effects of Miners' Strike.
Nullify Two Years' Work.

The Post-Dispatch today prints the last of a series of articles by a special correspondent of the Manchester Guardian and the New York Times and Post-Dispatch on conditions in the Saar Valley.

This basin, of only 760 square miles, adjoins Lorraine and supplies coal to the Lorraine iron industry. The Versailles treaty placed the district under control of a League of Nations Commission. Part of this arrangement was a plebiscite after 15 years to determine the future allegiance of the Saar.

The French authorities and the miners, is now dealing a fatal blow at the one time highly successful French school movement.

The French show a genius for defeating their own ends. With a gift in one hand and a whip in the other, they cannot wait to let kindness perform its insinuating task, but straightway become impatient and let loose with the lash. The arrogant and impolitic handling of the mine strike has killed the "cultural" seeds so elaborately sown in the last two years more effectively than could any protest or propaganda.

Stupidity has indeed all along been the characteristic quality of French policy in the Saar district. The French seem honestly to have believed when they first entered the territory that beneath a German exterior lay a French heart which would beat in response to their own.

But the French heart which would beat in response to their own was a politico-sentimental invention of M. Clemenceau, Barres and Tardieu (the first of whom is historically recorded to have shed tears of joy over "redeemed" Sarrouls) to infuriate them, and they resolved to gain with whips and scorpions what gifts and aid could not win.

GERMAN FACTIONS CONDEMN STINNES' EXPANSION POLICY

Arnold Reichtberg, Saar Industrial Leader, Declares
He Has Become Worst Foe
of Germany Through His Operations.

COUNTRY'S DEFEAT LAID TO FINANCIER

Demand Is Heard From Radicals and Conservatives
That Government
Put Stop to His Gigantic Speculations.

By SAMUEL SPEWACK.
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York Times.

BERLIN, June 28.—Conservatives and radicals united yesterday in a scorching attack on Hugo Stinnes as an enemy of Germany. From all quarters not under the domination of the financial giant the demand was voiced that government stop his "expansionist policy" in industry, which has made him an international figure.

Most unexpected was a public statement by Arnold Reichtberg, big Saar industrialist and former adjutant of the Crown Prince. In an article in the Boerschen Courier, organ of the Stock Exchange, in which he charges Stinnes was largely responsible for Germany's defeat in the war, Reichtberg says Stinnes' enunciated the annihilation policy for French and Belgian iron and coal centers and caused a break in the unity of the German people.

Reichtberg relates how the falling market after the war enabled Stinnes to speculate and buy up industries and estates on fantastic schemes. He asks why a man who ruined Germany's ship of state is still at the helm and controls.

The interests of Stinnes and the interests of Germany conflict, Stinnes has pushed his expansionist policy with the falling market which ruined the people. Leadership of the nation and acquisition for personal benefit cannot go hand in hand.

The Boerschen Courier, commenting, asserts the government should limit Stinnes' activities where they conflict with the government.

The radicals are pushing the Reichstag investigation of Stinnes and the falling market. Despite the stringent Reich regulations on speculation in exchange the mark is steadily descending and has reached 143,000.

Bourse authorities informed the correspondent that government interference sent the speculators from dealing in marks to dealing in dollars. The government goes on loans and stocks. It is said next week's issue of paper marks will exceed by one hundred and six tenths trillions the last press flood and it was pointed out that as long as this continues there is no hope of keeping the mark level artificially.

British Said to be on Verge of Asking for French Showdown.
(Copyright 1923, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., the New York Times.)

LONDON, June 28.—The patience of the British Government with French invasion of London's desire to institute positive measures for settlement of the Ruhr and reparations problems is reported to have about reached the breaking point. It is said Premier Baldwin intends, failing of satisfaction from Paris, to cause a public declaration to be made, of Britain's views of the disastrous consequences which are certain to flow from further delay.

A most painful impression has been caused by the informal information that the British Government has been informed by the French ambassador Poincare last Sunday because of Poincare's alleged insistence that France remain in the Ruhr until the last penny of reparations is paid, and because he broadcasted that he might not answer the British questionnaire at all. Not only nothing official but nothing informal can be obtained from Paris that meets the British desire for light on French aims.

Food Scarcity and French Killings Make Germans Panicky.
Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York Times.

COLOGNE, June 28.—Increasing nervousness has characterized the Ruhr struggle during the last fortnight. On the one hand the Germans are becoming panicky about the food supply, which in several cities has been cut off as the indirect result of various French administrative measures. On the other hand,

Utah Hopes to "Sell" Large Chunk of Scenery Through Harding's Zion Park Trip

State Proud of Its New Scenic Resort—Getting President Into the Picture an Artistic Piece of "Press Agenting".

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch With the President on His Tour.

ON BOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN, in Utah, June 28.—As this is written, the Union Pacific Railroad, in conjunction with Senator Smoot and the Mormon church, has just finished one of the most artistic pieces of "press-agenting" that "this republic of ours," as the President would say, has ever seen.

The aim of Senator Smoot, the railroad and the State was to "sell" the American people a large chunk of Utah scenery and it looks as if they have done it. Their success will be measured by the receipts from tourists next year—by the amount of Union Pacific mileage they buy, and the number of meals they eat. Really, this story of the President's trip to Zion Canyon in Zion National Park yesterday ought to go to the business office, to be assessed at so much per line. What saves it from going there—if the editor has decided to have it—is the presence of Mr. Harding in the picture. The getting of Mr. Harding into the picture—into this word picture and into countless movies—is what makes the artistry of the job done by Senator Smoot and the railroad.

Utah Booster's View.
This is the way one of the Utah boosters, told off to look after the newspaper men, put it. "You see, the President will view other great scenery on his trip. He will see Yellowstone and the Yosemite Valley and Alaska. But this scenery that we show him will come first and leave the biggest impression."

"Zion Canyon," said the U. B., "warning up to the job. 'Well, slap him right in the face. This visit to Zion Canyon will be like putting sterling on silver.'"

Maybe so, for it should be interpolated here that Zion National Park can give the most blasé tourist an eye full. The road runs there just as the present will give him an eye full of another sort. But that is more rapturous criticism after a hard automobile ride. The road is to be improved; the State and the Union Pacific and the Utah boosters are seeing to that. It's not a bad road now, considering the fact that it was carved out of mountain sides in a desert. The building of it was a noteworthy piece of engineering.

That part of it which is on Government ground, in the park itself—something like six miles—was built with a Congressional appropriation of $15,000, a ridiculous figure. It was possible to get the road built for that price, the U. B. explained, only because of the public spirit of local contractors who took the job. Part of the State's end of the road work was done with convict labor. In that connection our guide told this story.

Mormon Bishop's Prayer.
Former Gov. Spry, when in the executive office, went to a good roads meeting presided over by a Mormon Bishop. The bishop opened the meeting with prayer. "God bless all in authority," said the good Bishop, "and may the crime wave continue till we have finished our road building."

But this article set out to tell about the President's trip down to the canyon. Utah and the Union Pacific had been preparing for this trip for weeks. The road only a week ago was torn up by the rain. It was possible to get the road built for that price, the U. B. explained, only because of the public spirit of local contractors who took the job. Part of the State's end of the road work was done with convict labor. In that connection our guide told this story.

President's Good Nature.
Never was the good nature of the President better shown than by his complaisance in allowing himself to be taken on this trip. There was a time when he thought he would call it off, but Senator Smoot was at the President's elbow and persuaded him not to disappoint Utah. To make the trip involve a big ride of 150 miles down to Cedar City from Salt Lake City, the 45 miles by motor car to the canyon and then the ride back to our starting point via the train, the President assumed our way to Pocatello, Idaho. The park, set aside as a national park in Taft's time, is down in the southwestern corner of the state. It measures, at present, 30 by 20 miles, but Utah, in view of yesterday's happenings, hopes to get it enlarged.

A point about to be overlooked—but not overlooked by the moving picture men—is that the President after a ride as far as his car could take him, put on a blue blazer and a blue necktie, and with 25 of his party rode on for a while on horseback. In the canyon. Every time he admired a view, he was told there was something better just around the corner.

JOHNSON OBSERVES WORLD COURT IN ACTION

Senator 'Has No Opinion' of It to Express While in Europe;
To Return to U. S. July 17.

By FERDINAND TUOHY,
Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York Times.

PARIS, June 28.—"I am in a somewhat delicate position and you will understand, therefore, that I must refrain from making any statement about the United States joining the permanent court of international justice at The Hague," said Justice John Barrett Moore, the American member of that court, to the correspondent today. "At a time when no controversy had arisen I did not hesitate to express my opinion frankly about the attitude of the United States toward the court."

In an article on the court written by Judge Moore for the Columbia Law Review, he said: "No effort should be made to cultivate a public sentiment that will induce Governments, instead of resorting to violence, to come to a tribunal which has been established, which is continuously in operation and always open to them, and submit their controversies to its peaceful judgment."

When the correspondent asked Judge Moore whether the court had thus far justified his expectation he declared emphatically: "This tribunal embodies the highest human ideal—that of peace based on law."

During the sitting—which was taken up with the plea of the former Finnish Premier, Erich, for the court to save his 200,000 countrymen in Eastern Karelia from being swallowed up by the soviet—the Senator would now and then ask "Who's who?" of his guide, the local United States Minister, Tobin, also a native of California, which information the Senator would pass on to Mrs. Johnson.

Find Some Ammunition.
In one particular the Senator probably was presented with some ammunition. In asking the court to declare its competence to deal with the issue on hand, the Finnish pleader observed:

"Generally speaking, as regards advisory opinions, the competence of the court is fixed by the council of the League of Nations. Furthermore, presentation of requests for advisory opinions constituted one means at the disposal of the League for the purpose of assisting its members by means of its organization"—words which could be construed into meaning that this is a League court and not a world court.

When the court adjourned the Senator passed out without meeting any of the judges and proceeded to make a tour of the Palace and grounds.

A beautiful building," he observed, studying the stained glass windows.

five months abroad; he will never forget his dinners in Paris; he is going to Geneva for the meeting of the council of the League of Nations next week; he had long planned to visit his friend Tobin—all this, but not a word of the World Court.

Mrs. Johnson seemed to be in the conspiracy of silence, but was heard to observe at one point when in the wonderful Hall of Arbitration. "Evidently they don't use fountain pens here," indicating 12 vast silver ink pots.

World Court Embodies Highest Ideal, Says Justice Moore.

WOMEN WITH BAD COMPLEXIONS ARE GIVEN PROMISED SURPRISE

Take a leaf from fiction and read a story of facts
which will delight
every woman.

Judging by the many voluntary examples of satisfaction girls and women all over the country are making about the Beauty Creations sold under the Black and White label, truly wonderful creations are being more real good to correct bad complexions and to satisfy women in their desire to keep their appearance
fresh and cheerful than anything yet discovered.

Most women who have tried different kinds of treatments for such disturbances as pimples, blackheads, and discolored skin, are finding Black and White Cream so effective and satisfying that its sale, together with Black and White Beauty Creations, has reached the eight million packages a month in only a little more than four years.

It is the contention which authorities on skin and beauty have maintained, that it is possible to regain and keep the clear and pleasing complexion of youth only by the proper combination of cleansing and beautifying elements could be used to overcome the bad effects which irritation and the use of questionable cosmetics do to the most delicate and sensitive part of the body.

Black and White Cleansing Cream removes such skin blemishes as pimples, blackheads, and discolored spots in clearing and beautifying the surface of the skin. It is the one-sought-after method of correcting bad complexion when found at last.

After putting the skin in a dry condition by using Black and White Cleansing Cream, do not use
any other cream or powder and cream.
Black and White Cream and Face Powder
may be used together to enhance the beauty of the skin without changing any trouble or having that "pasty" or
"made up" appearance.

Who Has Burning Sore Feet, Corns or Bunions?

Here is Wonderful News!—

"For many years the callouses on my feet have driven me crazy," says Mrs. Anna Beckman. "I tried all kinds of things until I heard about the quick and wonderful results obtained by using the shoe foot rest. When I used it a few times as directed, and to my surprise, the burning and soreness stopped, and the callouses just peeled off
by themselves, leaving the skin smooth.
The sore corns between my toes seemed to disappear, and now I feel as if I had a pair of new feet. Before I used Gynex Shoe-Foot Rest, my feet were swollen, and now I can easily wear shoes
of the smallest, with perfect comfort."
Burning feet and callouses are caused by weak foot muscles which allow the bones in the foot to rest slightly out of balance, causing the tissue to bulge out under the shoe. The shoe foot rest, when used from the lining of the shoe at the heel, causes callouses to peel off, and the feet were burning. Powder, cutting and plaster afford only temporary relief
at best, as shown by Mrs. Beckman's results. The shoe foot rest, however, relieves and in time restores the foot to normal. The shoe foot rest is a small, light, and easily carried device. It is made of the ingredients in Gynex Shoe-Foot Rest, and is used in the shoe, and it can be used in one minute,
or morning, then you walk, work,
play or sleep on your feet as if you were
with perfect comfort. It is guaranteed to give successful results in every case, or you get back the little it costs.

military control, the Governor made it plain yesterday that he was ready to go the limit to suppress mob activities. He reiterated that he was prepared to place troops in charge of every county, if necessary to bring about a proper respect for law and protect the constitutional rights of every race and class.

Meanwhile, unnamed officials of the Ku Klux Klan were quoted in the local press as expressing their belief that the Governor's move was directed at the Klan.

The military inquiry instituted yesterday at Henryetta into charges that Sheriff John Russell and his deputies had refused to act in numerous cases of depredations occurring in Okmulgee County was resumed today.

Thirty national guardsmen are on duty at Okmulgee, and about twenty at Henryetta. The remainder of the approximately 200 soldiers entrained
for home a few hours after their arrival in Okmulgee.

MAN SHOT IN SALOON HOLDUP GETS 20 YEARS

Thomas Doyle, Who Was Wounded by Former Policeman Convicted of First Degree Robbery.

Thomas Doyle, 29 years old, was sentenced by a jury in Circuit Judge Grimm's court yesterday to 20 years
in the penitentiary for first-degree robbery, in connection with a saloon holdup Jan. 30 last, in which Doyle was shot five times by a former policeman.

Testimony for the State was that Doyle entered the saloon of Peter Nicolo, 1352 South Thirteenth street, at 11 p. m., while Mrs. Nicolo was tending bar, and six men, including Michael J. Murray of 922 La Salle street, a former policeman, were playing cards.

Details of the Holdup.
Doyle watched the game for several minutes and then drew a revolver and ordered Mrs. Nicolo and the men into the ice box. Mrs. Nicolo, who had become suspicious of Doyle
before he drew his revolver, had slipped an automatic pistol into the folds of her dress and carried it with her into the ice box.

The men were called to the door of the ice box, one at a time, by Doyle, who took their valuables and money. Mike Carr, one of the customers, testified he was robbed of $100 and a gold watch and chain.
After Murray had been searched by the robber Mrs. Nicolo handed him
the pistol, and later, while Doyle was in front of the cash register behind the bar, Murray shot at him through a window of the ice
box. Doyle was shot in the neck, arms, legs and body. He recovered
later at city hospital.

"Framed" Defense Contended.
Doyle's defense was that he did not go into the saloon for the purpose of robbery, but that while he was watching the card game a fight was started and he was hit with a bottle.
He said he remembered nothing after that. His attorney told the jury that after Doyle had been shot and was believed to be dead the robbery story was "framed." This was not corroborated by testimony, however.

NOT LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT BUT AFTER "THIRD WINK"

Neyssa McMein, Illustrator, Says
She's Practicing Her New Name,
Mrs. Baragwanath.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 28.—"It was not exactly love at first sight, but I'll have to admit that after the second and third winks I was going fast," said Neyssa McMein, illustrator, yesterday, discussing her marriage May 18 to John C. Baragwan-ath, mining engineer. The bride arrived from Europe on the Olympic.
Miss McMein said she met the young engineer a year and a half ago at a party given by Irene Castle.
"We did not become engaged until a few days before we were married,"
she said. "It seems the hardest thing in the world to keep a secret
in the United States. I did not want at this time to announce my marriage, but somehow the beans were spilled, and while I was in mid-Atlantic the news was broadcast. You could have knocked me over with a feather when I read the wireless announcement of my own romance on the ship's bulletin."

The day after her marriage Miss McMein sailed for Europe on the Olympic, while Baragwanath started for New Wales of Newfoundland,
where he had important work to do.
"He wanted to take me into the wilderness for a honeymoon," laughed the illustrator, "but I thought Paris, thoroughly tamed and broken to harness, offered better advantages."

His work completed, Baragwanath
called his bride to return at once.
She rushed down the gangplank into his arms.

Bubbling over with good humor
the illustrator laughed at the name
she had taken over.
"That's something to handle," she said. "I thought McMein was bad enough, but I'll need practice to get Baragwanath out on one breath."

Baragwanath's father is the Rev.
T. H. Baragwanath of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Pekin-kill, who performed the wedding ceremony.

Four Brothers in Priesthood.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BALTIMORE, June 28.—Four

Says Nitrate Combine Fixes Price.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 28.—A combination of British and Chilean interests is controlling production and price of nitrate and forcing the United States, which buys half of the nitrate exported from Chile, to pay higher prices than are warranted, according to Charles J. Brand, marketing specialist of the Department of Agriculture. After a study of the situation in Europe, Mr. Brand has made a report in which he asserts that control of prices for Chile nitrates practically rests with a London committee made up of representatives of British nitrate houses.

Woman Seeks Her Husband.
Mrs. M. L. Snow, formerly residing at 2837 Henrietta avenue, has notified the police of the disappearance of her husband, Myron Lee Snow, who was employed as electrician in the Equitable Building. On Friday, June 15, Snow put his wife and two small children on the train for a two-weeks' visit with friends at Deepwater, Mo., while he finished a job in St. Charles, after which, he said, they would go to New York with him. After failing to hear from her husband, Mrs. Snow borrowed

RESTAURANT ROBBERY CHARGE DISMISSED

Lack of Evidence Frees Man Whose Companion Was Killed by Policemen.

Testimony at the preliminary hearing yesterday of John C. Drain, charged with robbery in connection with a "gun play" in a restaurant at 1931 Park avenue May 1, following which Gerald Nirk, 31 years old, of 1838 Kennett place, was shot and killed by policemen, disclosed there was no evidence of a robbery having been committed by either Drain or Nirk, and the charge against Drain was dismissed.

It was recalled at the hearing that Nirk was shot in an automobile in which he and Drain were riding while being pursued by policemen. Pietro Mike, a short order cook in the restaurant, said to have been held up, had reported that Drain and Nirk had terrified customers in the place by smashing dishes and upsetting tables and that about an hour after their departure the proprietor, Demetrius Pastolus, had missed $31.90 from the cash drawer.

Mike, testifying at the hearing, admitted, under cross-examination, that neither Drain or Nirk were near the cash drawer and that, although he told policemen that one of the two men had flourished a revolver, he was not sure he had seen a weapon in the hands of either. The incident in the restaurant, he testified, was the result of a grudge between the two men and the owner.

Pastolus testified that he was absent from the restaurant at the time of the disturbance and that when he returned several hours later he missed the money from the cash drawer, but he could not say who had taken the money.

LEASE OF M-K-T. TRACK TO WABASH IS APPROVED

Leasing of Trackage in Oklahoma Oil Fields Also Receives Majority Stockholders' Vote.

Stockholders of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad, Inc., met yesterday at the Wabash Railroad, with the option of purchase, the 60 miles of track between Moberly and Hannibal, Mo.

Thirty years ago, before the present road from New Franklin to St. Louis was built, and when the "Katy" was considered a Chicago line, the track between Moberly and Hannibal was part of the main line, and through trains ran between Chicago and Texas over the Burlington and the "Katy," via Hannibal. With the construction of the St. Louis line the road to Hannibal became a branch line.

The stockholders also approved the leasing by the "Katy" of the Oklahoma Northern, 21 miles long, between Okmulgee and Henryetta, in an Oklahoma oil district. It was announced that the action taken in the two cases was approved by the vote of 729,368 out of a total of 1,028,106 shares.

POLICE COMMISSIONER POOR

New Yorker to Refute Graft Charge by Inventory.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Police Commissioner Enright, taking the stand yesterday before Judge Crain in his criminal libel action against Magistrate Corrigan and Assemblyman Cuvillier for their allegation that he was in league with alleged police bootleggers and grafters, declared that he had not received a cent from any policeman during the period covered by the defendant's charges. He said his present worldly possessions consisted of a bank account of less than $2000, a farm which rented for $500 a year, a $2300 mortgage, and $3000 or $4000 in Liberty bonds.

He promised to produce a detailed report of his holdings and finances at the time the Mullin-Gage State enforcement law was passed, and on April 22, 1933, when the defendants made their charges that he was receiving graft.

DECLARES DRY AGENTS ARE LAX

By The Associated Press.

TORONTO, June 28.—Laxity on the part of prohibition enforcement agents in the Detroit district fighting the beer smugglers was charged yesterday by chairman James Hales of the Ontario Bureau of License Commissioners, when informed that the owner of a sixty-four foot launch anchored in Canadian waters was taking advantage of Dominion export laws to sell the foaming beverage.

"I am convinced from what my officers report that the American officers in the Detroit district could stop most of the beer running if they tried," he said, our provincial officers have become discouraged in trying to co-operate against the smuggling since the American officers apparently put forth such little effort.

Is this your first purchase of Tires?

Buy U.S. Royal Cords

NOTHING in the history of the tire industry has stirred up so much favorable comment as the announcement of the three new U. S. discoveries. These are—

Flat Band Process—ensuring the positive length, angle and strength of each cord.

Web Cord—the first successful method of impregnating cords with pure rubber by direct soaking in the latex itself.

Sprayed Rubber—the first absolutely pure rubber.

They apply exclusively to U. S. Royal Cords.

In this announcement the veteran tire buyer sees another forward step in Royal Cord leadership in tire money's worth.

To the legitimate tire dealer it comes as a still further confirmation of his confidence in the U. S. policy and performance.

To the man who is about to make his first tire purchase it means—buy U. S. Royal Cords.

ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Who Masqueraded as Woman Accused by Chicago Jury.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Fred Thompson, who masqueraded as a woman and was charged with being the "smiling" woman robber who shot and killed Richard Tesmer, yesterday was ordered held to the grand jury on the charge of murder by the coroner's jury investigating Tesmer's death.

Thompson was attired again at the inquest in the female clothing which he wore when arrested in the apartment of Frank Carrick, where he is said to have lived as the wife of Carrick and the husband of Marie Clark. Mrs. Tesmer, widow of the slain man, testified that Thompson was the one dressed in women's clothing who fired the shot that killed her husband at the door of their garage.

TELLS OF SCHOOL DAY AFFAIR WITH HARDING

Woman Whose Books Warren
Used to Carry Home "Guesses
It Was Only Puppy Love."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1934.)

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—That "old sweetheart of mine," brought to world-wide fame by the happy comment of a President of the United States who could realize that childish love and childish idols make for nature stability, although the early dreams remain only dreams, is having the time of her life these days.

She is Mrs. A. A. Shuler of Bucklen. With her husband, son and granddaughter—oh, yes, there is a granddaughter—she had traveled more than 100 miles to renew her childhood acquaintance with Warren G. Harding, once the son of a neighboring doctor-farmer, but today the President of the United States. Woman-like she had recognized him the moment she laid eyes on him. But his memory was more elusive. The matronly-appearing farmer's wife, bronzed with the summer sun but smiling and happy withal, hardly resembled the spindly-shanked girl of the Harding boyhood days.

There was, however, a glint in the eyes that brought recollection and Mrs. Shuler laughed heartily as she told how the receiving line was halted for a very noticeable period during which the boy and girl of years ago exchanged happy reminiscences. And while they talked she recalled that the line behind waiting in the burning sun.

"Did you really have a desperate case with the President when you were a girl?" Mrs. Shuler was asked today.

"Well," and she smiled somewhat quizzically as she seemed to try to recall just whether it was or not, "you see it has been a long time ago, some 41 years. I suppose that in those days, as now, grown-ups probably thought that we had a real case. But judging from the final outcome, and from what I can now recall of it all, I guess it really was one of those puppy love affairs which help to enliven life when one is young and heedless of what goes on about them. But I was very glad to meet the President once more and to recall to him some of the things of years ago back home in the Western reserve."

It was back in the 70's that Mattie Neal, as she was then, and Warren Harding supplied talk for the New Caledonia (O.) grown-ups when she was accustomed to allow him to carry her books home from school and occasionally walk back after dusk from church. But the romance was broken when the Hardings moved to Marion while the Neals decided to "tek" to Missouri. There was a letter or two at first, but, as Mrs. Shuler rather coyly confessed today, there were other boys in the new home, and, after all, Marion was a long distance back East.

When Mrs. Shuler read that the President was coming through Kansas on his way to Alaska she told her husband that she would like to renew the childhood acquaintanceship. As she explained today she had no idea that there would be any publicity about the matter. She felt that, having raised a family, she could find nothing more appropriate than to introduce that self-same family to the chief executive of the land.

"The President was very glad to meet them," she explained today, "and they will never forget. But I was certainly the most surprised woman in all the land when the President took occasion to tell about our meeting when he delivered his prepared speech. I sat very quietly in the crowd in the grand stand and listened and you can be quite sure that I did not let anyone know that I was the woman that he was talking about."

Labor in Demand in Missouri.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 28.—There is a heavy demand for trained labor throughout the State, in factory, shop or on the farm, according to the weekly labor report of A. H. Steinbeck, statistician in the Bureau of Labor Statistics. For certain lines of work, the demand seems inactive, Steinbeck said. This is true of roustabouts, tie makers and timber cutters. During May more than 15,000 applicants sought employment through the three offices of the State Labor Bureau, at St.

Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph. A very large percentage of those were employed.

Richards to Meet Bill Johnston

American Tennis Stars Expected to Sweep Through Opponents at Wimbledon.

By the Associated Press.
WIMBLEDON, June 28.—The M. Johnston of San Francisco and Vincent Richards of Yonkers, the leading American players at Wimbledon tournament, will tomorrow to decide which shall advance in the race for the championship of the world.

The prospect of a struggle between the American cracks, who leading today among British fans tonight, and is certain to be one of the largest crowds of the first week of the tournament.

Richards defeated Jean Borotra of France in the feature match today's play. The score, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

William M. Johnston, 28, defeated American, defeated P. J. Spencer, Scottish, in the straight sets at 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, American woman champion, defeated Mrs. Edington of England, 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Mallory displayed a return to her best form in the start.

After the Richards-Borotra match the softer tussle between the two Americans, Johnston and Spencer, was expected to be a spectacle, and the King and Queen were expected to watch it for three hours.

Miss Kathleen McKane, ranking British woman, clinched Miss P. Holcroft, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3. In the mixed doubles Miss Johnston and Johnston, former champions, paired with Randolph Lycett, defeated E. G. Blesker and Mrs. L. 7-5, 6-4.

Richards' service was so good that Brugnon could make but one return, and occasionally was hit by Richards also made many points.

Richards has fascinated the lawn tennis fans even more, than Suzanne Lenglen. He applauded at great length at the end of the match, after which half the spectators departed, leaving many empty benches.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, American woman champion, appeared in the match.

Miss Leslie Bancroft, of England, defeated Mrs. Parton of England, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Eleanor Sears of Boston, eliminated from the women's play by Mrs. Shepherd-Barrow of England, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Suzanne Lenglen continued her triumphant progress in the women's singles by defeating B. C. Covell of England, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Martha Bayard of New York was eliminated by Miss Clarke of England, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

P. J. C. Norton of South Africa defeated J. D. P. Whistler of England's youngest Davis Cup winner, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Eleanor Goss of New York defeated Miss B. W. Donaldson of England, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

In the women's doubles, MacReady of England defeated Isabella Mumford, Boston, 6-2, 6-3.

Richards and Francis T. H. defeated Maj. R. Bernard and D. M. Evans, Great Britain, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

Americans whipped the ball over net with the fastest speed seen at Wimbledon this year.

Cardinals Lost 14 of 27 Games Played During Home Stand; Road Trip Will Decide 1923 Status

Team to Visit Seven Cities and Play 30 Games on Present Journey — Won 13, Lost 14 Games in Home Stay After Collapse in Last Two Weeks.

The Cardinals had opened their at home stay with great promise, away to a good start which included a run of seven straight victories, wound up in miserable fashion and left St. Louis yesterday in a slump.

The Cardinals will definitely make or break their season during the road trip which includes series with the Cubs, Pirates and Braves in the league and the Cardinals will get plenty of work in the feature match today's play. The score, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Pinelli's Injury Sad Blow to Moran's Reds

Third Baseman May Be Out for a Long Time Because of Spike Wound.

By John B. Foster.
(Copyright, 1923.)
NEW YORK, June 28.—Fate just now string along with the Cincinnati team. On the contrary she strings herself around Cincinnati's neck for a strangle hold. That's what Pinelli's injury amounts to.

The Reds' chances for a position in the race that will set back the Giants and put Cincinnati in the front row, depend on the length of time Pinelli must remain idle because of injury, and on the ability of the man who takes his place.

And it takes a long time for a wound like Pinelli's—an eight stitch spike cut—to heal enough for a man to put his foot on the ground without taking a tumble. Should Cincinnati suffer to the extent that it is reasonable to expect, the Pittsburghers are left as the only team between the Giants and triumph.

Pittsburgh's only salvation lies in cleaning up the New Yorkers for a full series and then another. That might start something.

Pinelli had more to do with putting Cincinnati up last year than any other fielder on the team. He gave solidity to an infield that formerly had Groh. Groh was recognized as the best third baseman of all. Pinelli filled Groh's shoes acceptably. This year he has been batting identically with his speed of last year, which is about .305 and fielding just as efficiently. So it is evident, that he hasn't gone back a bit; that he is really a winning factor for the Reds.

Cincinnati was third at the end of the first week of the season. Then she began to wobble. Twice the team dropped to seventh place. This shows lack of stability.

The last time she stood at the seventh place was June 2. Since then she has worked her way back to third, due partly to better pitching. Hopes were entertained that she might overtake the Giants' lead of half a dozen games. Whether she will do so now, is a question. If Kimmick is called on to play regularly at third, he may make the Reds a fighting factor. It will depend upon the other players, for Cincinnati is the most moody outfit in the circuit. There are a few on the nine with hopeful souls, and a half dozen with natures like spinners. They are full of catnip tea from the start of the season.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK WILL BE CUT INTO LOTS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 28.—Sale of the Sheepshead Bay racetrack property, comprising 650 acres, by the Harkness Estate Company and other interests to Max N. Nathanson, real estate operator, has been announced. The property also included a motorhome where the Astor Cup race was held in 1916. The land will be subdivided for residential purposes.

Navy's Eight Is Favorite Today At Poughkeepsie

Six Crack Crews in Race on Hudson, Which Will Be Witnessed by 50,000 Persons.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 28.—Six crack crews will be sent down the glistening waters of the beautiful Hudson this afternoon in what promises to be one of the most thrilling races in the history of American inter-collegiate rowing. They are the varsity eights of Navy, Washington, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Columbia, and Cornell.

Thousands of persons—50,000 at least, it is predicted—will witness the struggle. Special trains, steamers, private yachts and automobiles were bringing great numbers of visitors into sleepy, anathetic Poughkeepsie this morning.

"It's anybody's race," the experts say, although Navy is a slight favorite in the early betting. Even Willie the Wharf Rat, who has been picking winners here for 15 years, admits it will be close, but "most likely the Navy."

For once, there is no outstanding eight in this "invitation" event—the 24th annual inter-collegiate regatta, as it is called.

In the previous years Cornell has been the potentate of the river: having won 14 times; Syracuse was victorious on five occasions, Pennsylvania three times, Navy twice, and Columbia once.

The race will start at 6 o'clock. The distance is three miles. The record for which is held by Navy, last year's winner—13 minutes, 23 2-5 seconds.

Experts this morning gave this "last minute" size up: Navy—Strong, games, confident—a crew with lots of horsepower. Washington—The "runner-up" if there is such a thing in this race. Has the recent illness of Dow Walling, their famous stroke out, broken their morale?

Syracuse—The "dark horse" coached by the grand old veteran, Jim Ten Eyck, who knows every pocket and eddy on the course.

Pennsylvania—Has everything except weight. Averages about 168 pounds—10 pounds under the average crews of its opponents.

Columbia—Reported to be "holding out" and may spring a surprise. Cornell—Once mighty prestige gone, but always dangerous.

The "fair and cooler" of the official weather prediction, although this morning the clouds hung low and there was an indication that it might rain.

Payne Fails to Report.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 28.—Manager JACKSON of the Bloomington Three-Eye team announced that he had obtained pitcher Hodges, a southpaw from Wichita Falls, Tex., and that he would report here Friday.

Pitcher Payne, secured by the Danville Three-Eye team from San Antonio, has failed to put in his appearance as yet.

Junior Net Stars Resume Play Today

Springfield Players Meet Local Boys on the Triple A Courts.

By Davison Obeir.
Play will be resumed this afternoon in the junior and boys' tennis tournament being held on the Triple A courts in Forest Park. All matches scheduled for yesterday afternoon were postponed on account of wet courts.

The field in the junior singles has narrowed down to eight players. Of the remaining players in this event, two of them, McGavin and Cassidy, are from Springfield, Ill. Teddy Eggman, the title holder, and Mac Smith are East St. Louisans still in the tournament, while the other four, Weinstein, Jack Smith, John Gustafson and Stanford, are St. Louis players.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the first final round contest will take place. Smith and Rosenfeld will oppose Weber and Cuquet in the last match of the boys' doubles event.

Play in the boys' singles has reached the semifinal round. Two interesting matches in this event are on the schedule for today. Joe Smith, the present champion, will meet Neal in one contest, while Richard Smith, the East St. Louis star, will oppose David Stephen in the other semifinal-round encounter.

Two of the Springfield players will find strong competition this afternoon in the junior singles. J. B. Cassidy Jr. plays Mac Smith in one contest, while McGavin meets Herbert Weinstein in another. Two other singles matches will be decided today and several doubles encounters will also take place on the Triple A courts.

Today's Pairings.

JUNIOR SINGLES. Herbert Weinstein, St. Louis, vs. J. B. Cassidy Jr., Springfield, Ill. Teddy Eggman, East St. Louis, vs. John Gustafson, St. Louis; Jack Smith, St. Louis, vs. Carl Stanford, St. Louis.

JUNIOR DOUBLES. Third round—Jack Smith and Joe Smith, St. Louis, vs. Paul Welch and J. B. Cassidy Jr., Springfield; Teddy Eggman and Mac Smith, East St. Louis, vs. winner of McGavin-Neal and Stanford-Korack match.

BOYS SINGLES. Semi-final round—Joe Smith vs. Neal R. Smith vs. Stephen.

BOYS DOUBLES. Final round—Smith and Rosenfeld vs. Weber and Cuquet.

SEDALIA LEADING IN INTER-CITY GOLF PLAY

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., June 28.—Sedalia stepped into first place in the first round of the inter-city golf tournament here yesterday afternoon, with a total of 304 points. Columbia, with 222, was second; Jefferson City, 242; third, and Fulton, 231; fourth. The same teams play at Fulton today. The third and fourth rounds will be played at Sedalia and Jefferson City next month.

T. Lawson Price of Jefferson City turned in the low medal score, 19 out and 40 in, while E. P. Neff and T. A. Hickerson, both of Sedalia, tied for second with 12 each for the 18 holes.

Our customers are glad of this
—says the storekeeper who gives good service.

"We deliver cases to homes and call for the empties. This service is a great convenience to the women who have charge of homes. They can order Coca-Cola just as they do groceries, and always be prepared to please their families and guests with ice-cold bottles."

"We also keep the ice box in our store well filled for the many who want one or two bottles."

BETTER TONE IS SHOWN IN TRADE ON STOCK MARKET

Short-Covering and So-called Bargain-Buying Factors in Upturn—Bond Section Is Irregular.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Following is a summary of the day's trading in the New York Stock Exchange.

A "substantial" better tone was apparent in today's market, with pressure of liquidation easing and important buying appearing in the hour of the opening and first hour of the day.

Short covering and first hour of the day, activity having died down, which have been under the heavy pressure during recent days advanced strongly to gains of from 1 to 2 points.

Bargain buying including a considerable volume of odd lots was reported. The recovery, however, contributed to a cash money held at 10 per cent.

A slightly easier tone was apparent in the foreign exchanges, a further reaction in sterling being a new low for the year, this exchange was off 1/4 of a cent on the day at $4.53 1/2. London continued to be somewhat bearish on the pound, a state of mind which probably is explained by the fact that the low rates for funds to the center favor a flow of funds to London.

CHICAGO,

The Tread That Grips the Road

The surest and safest tire traction you can put under your car on any road is the beveled All-Weather Tread of the new Goodyear Cord.

The high, thick, sharp-edged blocks of that famous tread take a gripping, slipless hold.

They set up a wedge-like resistance to sideslip or skidding.

Through a new and improved rubber compound, this powerful traction is combined in the new Goodyear Cord with extreme long-wear and attractive appearance.

From the innermost ply of long-staple, highest-grade cotton to the durable sure-footed surface of the All-Weather Tread, this is the tire of more trouble-free miles at low per mile cost.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cords with the beveled All-Weather Tread and back them up with standard Goodyear Service

Thursday—Silent

Friday—8:00 P. M.

Broadcasting the opera, "Die Fledermaus" (The Bat), by Johann Strauss, from the Municipal Open Air Theater in Forest Park.

A musical program which, given on the concert stage, would have been a most notable event in St. Louis, was broadcast last night by station K S D to celebrate the beginning of its second year of service. In an atmosphere heavily charged with electricity a succession of beautiful vocal and instrumental numbers had to punch their way through a heavy barrage of static. Not during the entire summer, last year, did listeners experience anything to compare with the difficulties last night.

Those homes equipped with inside aerials fared much better than listeners depending on antennae outside.

The artists last evening were the same as those who presented the initial program on June 26, 1922, when K S D started its nation-wide broadcasting and in many respects the program was the same. The quartet from Risotto, several of the ballads given by the singers Dance Negre by Cyril Scott, and the Arabesque No. 1 by Debussy, played by Paul Fries, all were on the program of a year ago.

All the singers were in perfect voice and Fries and Mrs. Esmeralda Berry Mayes, violinist, never played in better form. Congratulations from far and near poured in all during the concert and afterwards. The program in its entirety was arranged by Ethan Allen Taussig, the St. Louis voice teacher and former grand opera basso, who arranged the original program a year ago. Other participants were Mrs. Hector M. E. Pasmazoglou, soprano, Olga Hambuchen, contralto, Harvey M. Hamay, tenor and Raymond Koch, baritone.

A feature of the program which was especially appropriate to the occasion was an address by F. W. A. Vesper, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, who was one of the two speakers on the program a year ago. The other speaker, Mayor Henry W. Kiel, had expected to make an address last night, but was prevented by illness.

Vesper discussed the question of the development in the science of radio as typified in the year since K S D began its broadcasting. Radio now, he said, is almost a household necessity—business men get valuable information, farmers are given market quotations and stock reports, baseball fans hear the results of the big league games, mothers are given advice as to the care of their children, sermons and Bible lessons are heard by many and a vast audience of people all over the country are entertained delightfully with the music broadcast from the big radio stations of the country. Referring to the recent broadcasting of the speech of President Harding in St. Louis he said that this marked the beginning of a new era in the use of radio, the end of which no man can conjecture.

INVADING ARMY OF CATERPILLARS IS HALTED BY ROBINS

Orchardists of Northwest Fear Birds Will Want Cherries and Peaches as Recompense.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAITSBURG, Wash.—The advance of the caterpillar army that devastated many northwest sections has been effectively halted by the unexpected arrival of multitudes of robins, scientifically known to pioneers out here as Flapwing Migratorious.

News of the impending feast of caterpillars spread among the robins faster than radio wavelets. From nowhere, apparently, yet from everywhere came redbreasts, first clearing the steel rails of the Albany-Newport railroad, long blockaded by the yellow horde. Next the robins feasted on the caterpillars thrown off the rails by the revolving brushes placed in front of locomotives. The right of way denuded of the pest, flock after flock of robins visited the orchards, lawns and shade trees throughout the districts infested by the caterpillars.

Fence posts and woven wire enclosures are still covered with the caterpillars, but the onslaught of robins and meadow larks has greatly reduced the peril from the destructive worms.

Orchardists hearing that the caterpillars are fast disappearing now fear the birds will claim recompense in the form of ripe cherry, apple and peach dessert.

Floats With Baby Six Hours in Flood WICHITA, Kan.—After floating around in her flood-filled home for six hours in a box, during which time she held her 6-month-old baby above her head, Mrs. Jack Whitbeck was rescued near Clearwater. The child, Mrs. Whitbeck fainted when water came up early in the night and she was alone in the house with her rescued, but was quickly revived.

We Never Misrepresent a Used Car—

It pays to buy from a reliable dealer. We have been selling automobiles for the past eighteen years.

EVOLUTION

In a few words evolution means a change for the better, from one form to another.

That's what happened to the used car business. It used to be a pirate's catch as catch can game. Today it is an established, reputable business. It took the leadership of Yahlem, who started no interest—long terms—guarantee, and because he was the original "no interest" man he naturally became the largest used car dealer in the West. It is easy to start something but to hold the leadership depends entirely upon giving a square deal and making satisfied customers.

Now they all say if it comes from YAHLEM it's all right.

FREE AUTOMOBILE GIVEN AWAY BY DE LUXE AUTO COMPANY ON SUNDAY, JULY 15th

YOU still have PLENTY OF TIME to win a beautiful seven-passenger OLDSMOBILE Touring Car, with the new motor. ABSOLUTELY FREE. All you have to do is send in as many names as possible of PROSPECTIVE used car buyers at once, and if we succeed in selling them one or more of the WONDERFUL VALUES we have in our new, large Used Car Dept., you will be given credit for the sale. You have many friends who have often expressed the wish of owning an automobile. See them at once and tell them of your desire to win this car. A great many of them will buy if we can show them how easy our terms are, and our great variety of real values in all makes and models. Only actual purchases will count in this contest.

OLD TYPE OF FRENCH PEASANT DISAPPEARING

More Modern Farm Methods and Increasing Prosperity Responsible for Change.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 28.—Movies in farming centers to teach the French peasants new methods of cultivation
have made the people of the cities realize with something of a shock
that the peasant is changing his ways.

The policy of keeping land holdings small has made the French a nation of proprietors, so far as such a condition can exist. The French inheritance laws tend toward the equal treatment of children in wills,
so that in most cases the farm is actually divided into small tracts
rather than sold and the proceeds distributed.

This love of the land, and a se-cretiveness born of living to himself,
is said by sociologists to be changing. The farmer of today looks upon his land as the instrument of fortune building. He will sell it at a profit for he can buy more.

Fifty years ago the French farmer kept as a secret the return from his crops and the kind and quantity of fertilizer he used. If he needed money he regarded borrowing with such dismay that he went to a money lender in another district, often at night, and paid usurious interest to escape publicity.

The modern farmer, although still perhaps in the minority, joins co-operative buying and selling organizations, discusses the best methods of cultivation with his neighbors, and is proud to tell what good bargains he has made.

This, however, is the rose view of country progress. There still remains the old type of suspicious peasant, guarding jealously his bit of land and the secrets of his savings, hidden in the house or buried under the floor. This method of hoarding, known as the "woolen sock," is believed by financiers to explain the rapid disappearance in France of gold and silver, and even of a great mass of banknotes. The French have learned to subscribe to bond issues, as a matter of patriotism, but the police records of big hauls by thieves in apparently poor homes show that many Frenchmen
still have no use for banks.

SEEKS DIVORCE ORDER IN SUIT COMMENCED IN 1898

Man, Desirous of Marrying Again, Finds He Neglected to Get Final Decree.

PHILADELPHIA.—The application to Common Pleas Court No. 1 on behalf of William C. Bostert for a final decree of divorce, in a suit begun in 1898, brought to light an odd condition of affairs. The divorce suit was referred to a master, who in 1899 reported in favor of granting the divorce. The husband apparently thought that was the end of the matter and never made the necessary application for a final decree.

The years passed. Bostert's original lawyer died and his wife disappeared, so that now even her attorney, Samuel E. Caven, does not know where she is or if she is alive.
Thinking he was divorced, the husband, after 25 years, decided to get married again, but when he went to get the marriage license he was told he must get a certified copy of the divorce record.

It was then that it was discovered that no final decree had been issued,
so application was made for the necessary order. The Court was told that every effort had been made to locate the wife so as to serve notice on her, but without success. The Court held the application under consideration.

BERLIN STREET IS DOG MARKET

Unter den Linden Frequented by Dealers Seeking Tourists.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 28.—Unter den Linden has become one of the world's greatest dog markets. Enterprising Germans who have police dogs to offer, go to the heart of the tourist section of the city and parade their wares before the hotels and other centers thronged by foreigners,
whose money stands high in relation to the declining mark.

While all the great police dogs of the wolf strain are muzzled and held on leash according to the municipal regulations, it does not prevent them from trying to fight. A police dog can fight more with a muzzle than most other dogs can without one.

Several blind soldiers who patrol Unter den Linden seeking alms are led by giant police dogs, which are frequently attacked by strange dogs
that are no respecters of disability and policemen have difficulty in pretecting the blind men.

One of the most popular all-purpose Keds.
For sports as well as for general wear

Now you see them everywhere
—sport clothes and Keds!

Easy, comfortable sport dress is here to stay. It's become the summer style from one end of the country to the other.

Nowhere is the out-of-door note more prominent than in footwear. At the vacation places—in homes and on country club verandas—on city streets
—everywhere today you see Keds.

Light, cool, easy fitting, Keds let the feet, cramped by months of stiff, hard shoes, return to their natural form and breathe. This freedom is especially fine for the growing foot muscles of children. Famous foot specialists say that Keds are scientifically correct for all normal feet.

Why you should insist on Keds

Keds are the standard by which all canvas rubber-soled shoes are judged.

Their quality is backed by the skill and experience of the largest rubber company in the world.

Keds are made in many styles—high shoes and low, pumps, oxfords and sandals—styles for men and women, girls and boys.

Keds, of course, vary in price according to type. But no matter what kind of Keds you buy, every pair gives you the highest possible value at the price.

Remember—while there are other shoes that may at first glance look like Keds—no other shoe can give you the real Keds value. Keds are made only by the United States Rubber Company.
If the name Keds isn't on the shoes,
they aren't real Keds.

ATTRACTIVE SUMMER DRESSES

Eat and Stay Young

By RUTH SNYDER

Youth Can Be Kept at Any Age.
"Sleep—sound, restful, dreamless sleep—is the great preserver of youth."
"Abstinence from water."
"Good living, careful living and study of gastronomy will keep one's youthful sweetness, fat comes from carelessness, ignorance or gluttony."

THESE are the secrets offered by a "young" man of over 50 who has just published a book, "Eating Without Fears" (Nicholas L. Brown).

"I have never denied myself any dish my soul desired and my pocket could afford—and I have never had indigestion," the writer boasts. "I weigh around 155 pounds and am told by the local manslaughterer that I am under weight for my height of six feet. Nevertheless I do not think in the whole course of my life I have had more than a hundred dollars' worth of medical advice, which works out at $2 a year—surely a modest amount when it includes measles, whooping cough and other childish ailments. The most violent exercise I ever take is to read a novel in a hammock, throwing an occasional stone at a robin in the strawberry patch."

The above is emphasized because this remark, together with another striking one offered by the author, contradicts most strongly all the mandates of medical experts.

"Where the poor dumb animals are more wise than we humans is the way they eat," he writes. "They eat their food first and then drink their water. They do not imperil their lives by drinking water before they eat. Nature tells them that such a proceeding dilutes the gastric juices, rendering them too weak to perform the necessary process of digestion. . . . Abstinence from water has a dual advantage. Not only does it help to preserve one's figure, but it eliminates one of the great causes of indigestion, which is the national complaint of the United States, just as rheumatism is the national complaint of the British Isles. To drink water without harm it is necessary to take quantities of violent exercise to overcome the ill effects of such overindulgence."

"Youth—we all love youth and envy it," the author further states. "The older we grow the more we admire it, hunger for it, and perhaps it is this very yearning that brings us to second childhood. Who knows? . . . Sleep; sound, restful, dreamless sleep is the great preserver of youth. No matter what the worries of the day, no matter what the physical or mental exertion, a good night's rest will make one as fit as a fiddle the next morning. And sleep can only be obtained naturally by a perfect digestion. A perfect digestion can only be acquired, and when acquired, maintained by a natural way of living."

The United States Labor Department selected Anne Weinstock, who is only 26 years of age, to adjust wage and labor controversies between the employees and employers in two of the largest finery producing cities in the United States. Through her efforts as mediator more than 35,000 suits, skirt, waist and dressmakers of New York and Boston ended their long lay-off and went back to work.

After all, the main item in living is food, food that will keep the digestive organs in good condition, enable them to do their work and thus nourish the entire system."

And so the author suggests some menus and dishes, which, if adhered to, will eliminate indigestion and reduce superfluous fat. There is one time that Mr. Scotson-Clark believes in internal water treatment—and that is at night—a half pint of cold water the last thing at night. In the morning a cold bath, a rub-down with a rough towel and a good breakfast. "I scorn Swedish exercises and such-like flubdub," he declares. "They will tire you out before you start the day."

We will briefly summarize what the author has to suggest for the three meals in the day.

Breakfast—"Cream should have no place on the breakfast table, neither on cereal, fruit nor in coffee. The stomach is not in sufficiently strong condition in the early morning to digest cream easily—besides which, it is very fattening. Eggs are the ideal dish for breakfast. Boiled, poached, fried, omelette, en casserole, scrambled, shirred."

Lunch—"I do not think a heavy lunch is good unless one's work is 'outside' work. Too substantial a lunch is apt to make one 'loggy' in the afternoon and disinclined for work. On the other hand, a brain-worker—not a bookkeeper or such like, but a man who really does use his brain—needs as much nourishment as does one who uses his brawn."

"Everyone should allow himself an hour—a full hour—for his lunch. It is these hasty snacks of a piece of pie and glass of milk that ruin the digestive organs."

Dinner—"Boileds and roasts (or bakes) should alternate, not only for the convenience of cooking, but for gastronomical reasons."

"A few dishes, perfectly cooked, are much better than a large number imperfectly cooked. Consuming large quantities of food is only a habit."

Following these suggestions, the author has offered a number of recipes which he guarantees to be tasty and nourishing.

German women members of the Reichstag have adapted themselves with surprising ease to the political duties upon them. In debates they excel the men members.

Fashion News Notes

THE ANIMAL GOWNS have created such a furore today that applied animal figures of velvet, leather or felt are seen on various things where one would least expect them. A smartly gowned woman crossed the Place de la Concorde one recent rainy day with an animal-decorated red silk umbrella.

THE FROST HAT, created by some enterprising milliner, has achieved a mild sensation. Either wide brimmed or in turban shape this hat is of white felt covered by tinsel folds that look not unlike sparkling frost or tiny drifts of snow.

RED SHOES SEEM to be the most popular of the colored frocks in London, with yellow ones a close second. The prevailing style calls for pearl gray stockings with red shoes and white stockings with the yellow.

AMONG THE NEW CIGARETTE CASES shown is one of heavy moire

ribbon, beaded in flower designs. One of these new cases was in American beauty moire, the beads being black, yellow, pale green, and white.

THE FOX SCARF, with which, despite the heat, most summer traveling costumes today are completed, may be had in various shades to harmonize with the suit. Bisque is a favorite, but there is also a reddish shade and one of a distinct blue.

A VERY YOUNG GIRL of the ash blonde type wore a gray-dotted Swiss frock to a New York tea Monday afternoon. It had a Bertha and sash of apple green Swiss, the Bertha being cut wide enough to cover the tops of the otherwise sleeveless arms.

ONE CHIC LITTLE HAT worn here today is so severely plain for the most part that it requires a nicely molded face to be worn successfully. The hat is a helmet-shaped straw with a narrow brim and the only trimming is a flat mass of flowers and leaves at the back.

THE PARASOL, which is more than ever an important accessory this season, has become rather a giddy affair. Its shape may be round or square. About the edge are little tassels, either of silk or of beads and crystals.

DD and INTERESTING FACTS

The first authentic record of making in England was about 1594 women to every 1000 men.

There are estimated to be about 500 varieties of spiders in the British Isles.

The wedding ring of a woman in a town in Yorkshire, Eng., was recently struck by lightning, with fatal results for the wearer.

The first elevator of the modern type was exhibited at the World's Fair, New York, in 1853, but not until 20 years later were elevators used for raising passengers.

The natives of West Africa can send messages a distance of 10 miles over water and seven miles over land on a still night by beating a drum.

LUNCHEON EGGS

TAKE 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-8 tablespoon pepper, 1-3 cup cheese (grated), 6 eggs.

Melt the butter, add flour and milk as you do in making white sauce. When thick, add the grated cheese. Butter a baking dish, put one-half of sauce in it, then break carefully six eggs in that.

Spread the rest of the sauce over the eggs, sprinkle with cheese and bake until eggs are set.

The United States Labor Department selected Anne Weinstock, who is only 26 years of age, to adjust wage and labor controversies between the employees and employers in two of the largest finery producing cities in the United States. Through her efforts as mediator more than 35,000 suits, skirt, waist and dressmakers of New York and Boston ended their long lay-off and went back to work.

BIG FOUR ROUTE

How can dainty strands of hair make a net so strong?

MMR has found the one successful way

ALWAYS, MMR, designer of women's fashion accessories has been specially interested in the hair net. For he feels that it adds so much to the beauty of a woman's hair.

But he believes that a hair net can be more than just a perishable trifle, worn today, replaced tomorrow. New possibilities of longer wear MMR finds for this dainty feminine accessory.

And so, in MMR's Red Seal hair net you have a delicate, invisible thing which still is very sturdy, capable of the longer wear you would so much like.

How can such fragile strands of hair be expected to give much wear?—you ask. MMR has found a way—the only successful way.

Just by painstaking, unending care in the details of making! Perfection in every step of design and handiwork!

Such small details as the length of hairs, for instance; MMR will have only the longest. And they are selected with utmost care for color, sheen and texture.

The mesh of a hair net is a vital factor in its wearing strength. It must be woven a certain size, numbering so many knots, so many spaces. And the knots are tied firmly, just so far apart.

MMR insists on correct shape and ample size, because these, he says, have much to do with the wear a hair net gives.

Thus, you see, MMR's hair net is perfectly made in every step. And so it gives not only practical value in the longer wear it offers but an added beauty to the hair which a less perfectly made net can never give!

In its durability and greater wear, MMR's Red Seal hair net presents a new economy, which you will surely appreciate. Begin to enjoy it now; give this net a thorough testing. At all drug and department stores here, 2 for 25c.

PRIDE OF STATE.

WHEN the whippoorwill sings "Marguerite" to its mate, My heart ever turns to my dear native state, With her stately old pines, placid lakes and savannas, Where the mocking bird sings, "Yes, we have no bananas."

When I hear the mellifluous notes of the plover Sing "Little Gray Home in the West" to its lover, I long to return to the scenes of my childhood, Where the nightingale sings "Sweet Marie" in the wildwood.

NATURE FAKERS.

There is nothing impossible to the boys of Tiapan Alley. They could make an angworm sing Rigolito in French.

If it hadn't been for a song-writer we would never have known that the whippoorwill included "Marguerite" in its repertoire.

Labor day being a day of rest, the abolition of the Labor day parade seems to be a step in the right direction.

The shoe merchants might kick on the abolition of the parade, but the effect will not be such as to put them on their uppers.

As there are no longer any walking delegates there will be no kick coming from that direction.

HOT WEATHER PESTS.

RIGHT on the nose I'd like to sniff One Algernon McFee; He never fails to ask me if It's hot enough for me.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

As a result of being plastered on the button by Jack Dempsey, Big Ben has his jaw in a plaster cast.

IT'S TOUGH.

Big Ben escaped from the hospital and when found he had resigned the plaster cast and was tearing into a T-bone steak. Plastering a guy is one thing, but making it stick is something else again.

PEEK-A-BOO!

The saloon keepers have secured an injunction permitting them to use screens.

PEEK-A-BOO, peek-a-boo. Come from behind that screen; Peek-a-boo, peek-a-boo. Come out where you may be seen.

QUITE SO.

Die Fledermaus got off to a flying start at the Municipal Theater Monday night. The flying squirrels in the neighboring trees also seemed to enjoy it.

"Gov. Hyde Grants Paroles to Two." Lock up the family plate.

All the baseball managers have been spouting about what would happen when the hot weather set in. All right, boys, it's here. Do your stuff.

If the warm weather birds don't come through now they are going to run into a decided frost later on.

They will either be roasted by the fans or fried in their own grease.

At that Grover Alexander and Walter Johnson seem to be profiting by the turn in the temperature.

The Leviathan is now "Queen of the Ocean," while Al Lasker was unanimously elected "Queen of the May" by his honored guests.

And it goes without saying that everybody had a royal time.

FAVORITE STORIES By Irvin S. Cobb

PRACTICALLY NO REASON FOR IT.

THERE once was a clerk of the hotel in a small Maine town who had a unique way of keeping a diary. Each evening he wrote on the bottom lines of the page of the register for the current date a brief account of the principal daily doings in the community, usually coupled with a summary of his own personal reactions to them. Sometimes his phraseology was unusual, but always it was amply descriptive.

A friend of mine was stopping at the hotel, having gone up to Maine on a fishing trip. He fell into the habit of glancing through the back pages of the register, more from the enjoyment he got from the quaint language of the entries than because he was interested in hygienic neighborhood history.

On succeeding pages of the book for a week of the early spring of the year previous, he found these progressive records of a local tragedy:

Tuesday: "While fishing through the ice yesterday, Henry Whippet fell in the Saco River up to his neck. He was drawn out and took home."

Wednesday: "Henry Whippet is in bed with a powerful head cold. His folks are thinking some about calling in a doctor."

Thursday: "Henry Whippet is rapidly continuing to get no better. Now looks like he is fixing to break out with pneumonia."

Friday: "Henry Whippet is sinking rapidly."
Saturday: "At 9 o'clock this morning our esteemed fellow citizen, Henry J. Whippet, Esq., went to his Maker entirely uncalled for."

KILLS POLICEMAN,
MAKES MOTORCYCLE
LOSES LIFE IN CRASH

Man Found in Road at Freeport, Ill., Said to Resemble Tony Massud, Wanted
Here for Killing of a Policeman.

HAD BEEN ARRESTED
IN A CHOPHOUSE

Bodies Discovered After Policeman Takes Him From Police Station on Story of Hidden Revolver.

The Associated Press.
FREEPORT, Ill., June 27.—(City Press.) Tony Massud, 27 years old, motorcycle policeman, was shot and killed today by an unidentified tramp, who was apparently a tramp, who was killed shortly afterward when he attempted to escape on the main main road cycle, which crashed against a fence while running at high speed.

The dead slayer, according to the report, bore a close resemblance to Tony Massud, 18, wanted in St. Louis for the recent killing of a policeman, and whose photograph the police have on file.

The slayer apparently was about 5' 10" or 23, about 5 feet 4 inches tall, smooth shaven, and with dark hair. He was arrested by a group in a chop house and was taken to the police station where he had several cartridges. Asked for a revolver, he said he had hidden one near the side of the road on the outskirts of the city. From the prisoner in the side car
the motor cycle, started for a spot where he had hidden the weapon.

Some time later there was a motor cycle crash at a street corner.
The unidentified man was found dead near the smashed motor cycle in his vest pocket was found a small revolver.

"The body of Fruep, with a bullet hole through the right eye, was found two blocks away. The slayer is believed to have concealed a weapon when at the police station and to have killed Fruep as he drove along the street.

Massud Sought in Connection With Murder of Patrolman Griffin.

The police description of Tony Massud, for whose arrest a reward of $1000 has been offered, in connection with the murder of Patrolman W. E. Griffin Cuckoo, June 16, states that he has a small scar
on the back of his neck, the left side. His police photograph shows many pimples on his face.
Chief of Police at Freeport says
the Post-Dispatch, over long times telephone today, that the man who was killed after slaying Freeport policeman answers the description of Massud in those particulars and as to height, approximate.

Massud is accused by the report of being the eighth Cuckoo implicated in the murder of Patrolman Griffin, the seven others who have been arrested in St. Louis.
It will be recalled that following slaying of Patrolman Griffin in Telegraph Inn, in St. Louis, Co.
John L. Sargent, a produce dealer, was killed, presumably by same gang, apparently because he had witnessed the killing of the tramp.

The general description of the slayer, his age as 18; height, 5' 10"; weight, about 150 lbs.; dark chestnut
"dark chestnut eyes" and a dark complexion.
